No. 28

The greatest mistake we make in
our relationships:
we listen half,
understand
quarter, think
zero and react
double.

Not all of us can
do great things.
But we can do
small things with great love.

"If you have choice,
then choose the best.
If you have no choice,
then do the best."

FANTASTIC TWO

There is a Hollywood movie named Fantastic Four. With a lot of special effects and miraculous happenings one could enjoy and go wild while watching this movie with a coffee mug in hand. Heroic deeds make it out.

But who are the real heroes in our real life other than a Hollywood or Bollywood hunks who love to portrayed the director's imagination with the help of the stuntmen and the special effects by the computer generated multimedia? We might spend quite a few moments before answering this. It's not that big puzzle. It's that simple - the people who serve the society.

One never can be a hero if he is not adored by the mass people. And the mass people won't feel it important to admire, approve, or adore anyone if they don't find him worthy enough for their lives and livelihood. Politicians often follow and play the tricks well.

But we are going to name two people who are neither politician nor even Hollywood hunks. They are common people like us but still they are treated like heroes in our life and society. It is Paul P Harris and John Herbert Taylor. There is nothing new about them. We all are acquainted with them and well concerned with what they did.

We are here now to continue with the idea and the philosophy once conceived and developed by them. But what is to be watched out is that when spirit and motivation works then nothing could resist the positive outcome.

We share our heart with the child who gets down by polio. We are with the woman with a helping hand who just needs a simple job for her livelihood. When the children get drop out of their education we are instantly there. We are there with all our love and courage when Aila, the devastating cyclone takes away all their smiles and hopes of life.

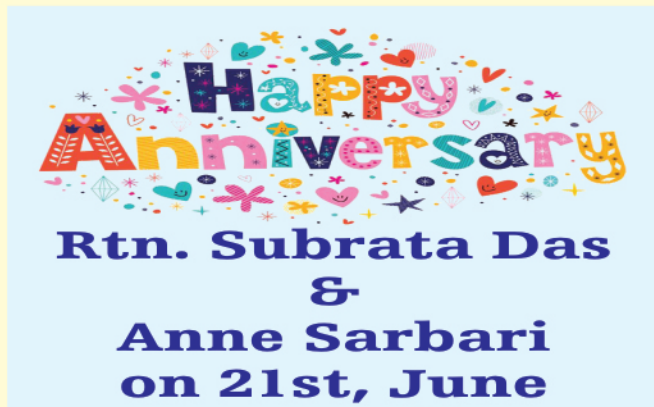

And we are here once again today as we are committed to walk along the path affirmed by the fantastic two.

We meet Friday at "Hotel Park Palace"
